

Emma Maceko

New York Power Authority (NYPA)

Emma Maceko is a Regulatory Affairs Analyst at the New York Power Authority (NYPA). Emma has been with NYPA since January 2018. Her work is focused on the regulatory issues relating to energy storage, electric vehicle supply equipment, and other Commission proceedings that are of interest to NYPA and its customers. Prior to joining NYPA, Emma spent four years as an Assistant Counsel in the Majority Counsel/Program Office of the New York State Senate, where she focused on Energy, Agriculture, and Economic Development policy.

Emma graduated Cum Laude from Albany Law School in 2012. While at Albany Law, Emma served as the Managing Editor for Technology and Development on the Albany Government Law Review and was a Teaching Assistant for Contracts Law. Prior to Albany Law, Emma graduated Smith College in 2009 with a Bachelor's of Arts in Political Science, with a focus in International Relations. While at Smith, Emma spent her junior year abroad at the University of Edinburgh in Edinburgh, Scotland studying International Relations.