Daren Suarez

Manager, Public and Government Affairs
Boralex Inc.

Darren Suarez is the Manager, Public and Government Affairs, for Boralex with responsibility for government affairs in the United States.

For over 25 years, Boralex has been developing, building and operating renewable energy power facilities in the United States, Canada, France and the United Kingdom, and has been present in the State of New York for over 15 years. Boralex operates seven hydropower facilities in Upstate New York and our office, located in the town of South Glens Falls, serves as a hub for our Operations and Development teams, who carry out all our United States-based activities.

Before joining Boralex, (on October 1) Darren was Senior Director of Government Affairs at the Business Council of New York State where, for eight years, he advocated for members on energy and environmental issues, among other concerns. Earlier in his career, he worked for the New York State Senate in his field of interest, namely environmental and economic public policies. He was recognized for this work in attracting GlobalFoundries to construct a $3.2 billion 300 mm-wafer fab in New York State and for his work as a primary author of New York's Brownfield Cleanup Program.
