New York Statutory Disability Benefits Law (DBL) and Paid Family Leave (PFL) Rider

Even with careful planning and saving, many people count on a steady paycheck to cover their monthly expenses. That means even a brief time away from work – for a disability or family leave – can cause financial hardship for your employees.

As an employer with employees working in the state of New York, you may be required to provide both disability coverage and paid family leave. You may want to consider our DBL product, which includes a PFL rider.

What does PFL cover?

A qualifying event for reasons other than an employee’s own medical condition, such as:

- Maternity and paternity leave (bonding leave)
- Care of a family member with a serious medical condition
- Certain military leave situations
